

Frequently Asked Carnival Questions

Why do I have to pay to board a kiddie land ride with my child? The manufacturers set the standards for the safety requirements of all rides. The parent/supervising companion of the child however is best qualified to know the maturity and the capabilities of the child. If the child is qualified to ride per the safety guidelines posted, we leave it up to the parent/supervising companion to decide if the child should ride without supervision. It is the policy on the midway that all seats on the rides require tickets.

Why are there height and weight requirements for each ride? The safety of our guests and employees are the highest priority on our midway. The ride manufacturer engineers establish the ride safety guidelines. They with the manufacturer, design the ride and the safety restraint systems. Due to certain body proportions, some rides are not suitable for all. The ride guidelines are posted on the front of each ride. If a ride operator denies your entry it is for your safety. It is also helpful to observe the action of the ride before you board.

How can I find out height and weight requirements for each ride?
